Takeda COV ISPE CaSA Open House Come Join Us!

Takeda COV (Covington, GA) is thrilled to extend a warm invitation to the esteemed ISPE and Engineering community at-large. Whether a student, engineering or life sciences industry professional, or someone interested to explore opportunities to join the Takeda COV team, we are delighted to announce our upcoming Open House event, where you will have the exclusive chance to explore Takeda's cutting-edge manufacturing facility situated in Covington, GA.

This event will provide valuable networking opportunities and insights into Takeda's unwavering dedication to patients, sustainability, and the various opportunities available at the Takeda COV site. Additionally, you will be treated to a delectable catered lunch while gaining knowledge about the latest advancements in manufacturing technologies employed by Takeda.

We urge you not to miss this extraordinary occasion to discover an exceptional establishment committed to enhancing the lives of patients worldwide. Moreover, it presents a unique opportunity to engage with Takeda's engineering leaders and network with professionals in the life science industry. Secure your spot by signing up now!
